Pastor Mike's Mash

[Paul writes:] "You are no longer foreigners and strangers [separated from each other and from God], but rather, fellow citizens with God's people and also members of his household, ²⁰ built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. ²¹ In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a holy temple in the Lord. ²² And in him you too are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit." —Ephesians 2:19-22.

You know, of course, that Trinity has a mission statement, right?

But if someone asked you, "What is Trinity's mission statement?" would you be able to tell them?

I am guessing that astute eyes will have noticed that our congregation's mission statement is actually included right here on this page, (see the title bar above ) incorporated into what is our "logo," including the Trinitarian symbolism of the three interlocking circles (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit), the cross of Christ at the center, with each Trinitarian circle containing the elements of our mission statement: INVITE * EQUIP * SEND.

For others, it actually may be news (a) that we have a mission statement; and (b) what that mission statement is!

And this is not judgment—it simply reveals the shortcomings inherent in mission statements or the way organizations use their mission statements—or, DON'T USE their mission statements, as the case may be.

Last weekend, (Friday, April 16 & Saturday, April 17), most of our council gathered in retreat at Camp Onomia. Our retreat had 3 targets we wanted to hit. We wanted to...

- ...spend time just getting to know each other better; (About 1/3 of our council have been members of the congregation less than a decade.)

- ...continue orienting our council to their leadership positions; and
- ...begin re-evaluating our mission; the way it is stated; the way it is "committed"; and what this will mean as we respond to God's call into our new normal.

And the results?

Well, for one, the tasks at hand are much, MUCH bigger than what one weekend could contain; however, here are at least some of the foundational conclusions we drew:

1. As we were rooted in Scripture and as our council president Matt Barlage guided us through purposeful conversation aimed at Trinity's purpose and mission, it seemed clear that our current statement—INVITE * EQUIP * SEND—does still indeed point us in the direction God is calling, even with the challenges we have encountered over the past year.

- We still believe these tasks for which Trinity was designed and created BY GOD.
- To INVITE * EQUIP * SEND is in our DNA.
- It is timeless—we don't perceive this changing, as there is no goal, nor outcome. There is no deadline. We will ALWAYS be living in to a mission...

...to INVITE people's lives to be opened to the gracious, merciful, and loving presence of God revealed in Jesus;

...to EQUIP everyday people of faith for faith for our every day;

...and to SEND those everyday people of back into their everyday world to be the gracious, merciful, and loving presence of Jesus.

2. As we continued our weekend-long Bible study and began to examine "our Vision" we also began to be able to imagine the way we might reinterpret the way we carry out our ministries and programs that might be different in our new normal.

- One of our council members asked, "How do we get the light that shines through our stained glass window and INTO our sanctuary to shine OUT into our community?"

Pastor Mike's Mash

- When relationship and connectedness are historically cited again and again as one of Trinity's strengths, how do we intentionally practice that sort of welcome and hospitality for the sake of those who are newer to and less connected within our fellowship?
- How can we partner better with community need opportunities like Princeton Pantry and Kinship?
- How might our teaching/learning ministries change if the vision was one of training, modeling, practicing, or coaching? (One of our council members shared a training ethos she had experienced, "Watch me; Show me; Tell me.", as a way of learning and growing.)
- How do we shore up the "transitions" where we have traditionally "leaked" people? (I.e., the transition between Baptism and Sunday School; the transition between confirmation and high school graduation; the transition between empty nest and whatever comes next)

As you can see, there are as many questions as there answers and proposals! But the questions and the examination of where we've been historically and recently—and most importantly of all, our faith that God has not and will not abandon us to an unknown future—have laid the foundation, built around the cornerstone that is Jesus as the fullness of God's heart.

What seems clear is that as our council continues to ask these questions...

As we seek to flesh out EXACTLY what we believe God's vision is for our mission to INVITE * EQUIP * SEND...

As we continue to seek where it is God is calling; how it is that our congregation will respond; and how what we do reflects Jesus Christ, the Light of the world, the Light NO DARKNESS can overcome, our focus will sharpen.

Stay tuned for more on this topic.

See you in worship.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR KENNY NEUMANN—SUNDAY, MAY 2, 2021, 9am

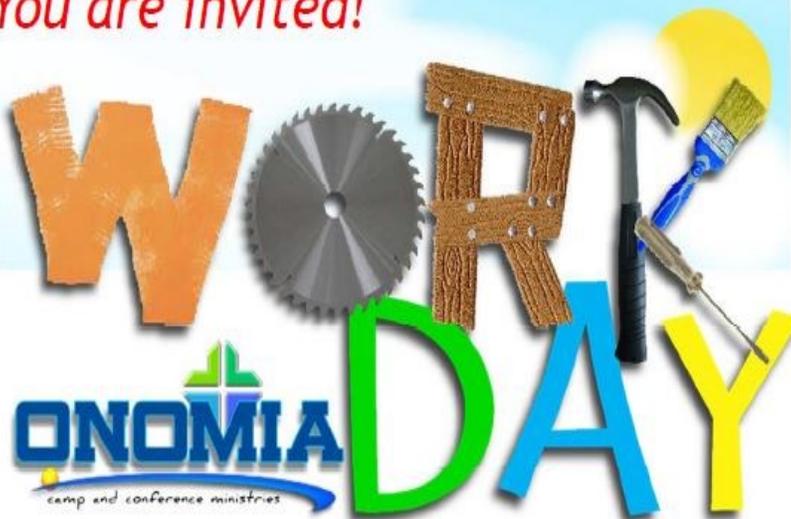

Kenny died from complications related to pancreatic cancer on December 23, 2020. His funeral was the day before we returned to in-person worship after the November-December covid surge, January 16, 2021.

If there was anything related to worship, Kenny was in the middle of it. Over Christmas and Easter, those of us left to do what Kenny did, ESPECIALLY for those high holy days, were often caught off guard by our grief to say, "I sure miss Kenny." It has seemed appropriate, then, that we gather as a congregation to remember, to mourn, and to commend Kenny to the faith that inspired and directed Kenny in life and keeps him united with our Lord Jesus Christ, even in death. CHRIST HAS DIED! CHRIST IS RISEN! CHRIST WILL COME AGAIN!!

Please come join us for this service, filled with music and with remembrance of such a quiet yet faithful servant and the epitome of one who gave of himself for the sake of his Lord and for his people in time, in talent, and in resource.

Green Tips for 2021 are researched and written by members of two congregations in our Northeast MN synod. They are published monthly in the Synod Announcements. These tips are timely and informative messages about environmental stewardship. Offering sound science, they range from practical tips for your own daily practices to needed policy.

Since it was passed in 1973, The Endangered Species Act has protected more than 1,600 plants and animals, keeping more than 99 percent of them from going extinct, and helping hundreds to recover. Yet at a time when the world's leading scientists warn of an extinction crisis with millions of species lost forever, new federal changes to the Endangered Species Act would for the first time:

- 1-- place economic costs of protecting at-risk wildlife over the actual survival of the species
- 2-- Welcome bulldozing, mining and drilling in the critical habitats of protected species. In addition, the current EPA has not only removed previous restrictions of sulfoxafloor, a pesticide that reduces bees' ability to reproduce, it has also added new uses for the toxic bee-killing insecticide, according to the science journal Nature.

Finally, these federal changes pulled the plug on the Department of Agriculture's (USDA) study of bee populations, which beekeepers use to monitor bee colony decline. URGE YOUR POLICY MAKERS to work to protect critical wildlife, whose well-being we all depend upon for our own well-being.
